Entire World

MONTGOMERY CASE
BEFORE O'NEILL

Unable to secure an outside judge to hear the trial, Judge Fruit has transferred the Montgomery murder trial from Sparta to Black River Falls. The trial will be held next March, Judge O'Neill sitting on the bench.
At the opening of the fall term of circuit court at Sparta, an affidavit of prejudice was filed against Judge Fruit by the attorney for Samuel Montgomery. The judge promised to call in another jurist, but failed to secure one. Therefore he transferred the case to Jackson county. Black River Falls is only twenty miles from Warrens, where the murder took place, so little inconvenience will be encountered.

Montgomery, after being convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to prison for life, is to receive a new trial. His case was carried to the Wisconsin supreme court, where it was held that the evidence did not justify a verdict of premeditated homicide or murder in the first degree. The crime occurred in May, 1903 and Montgomery was found guilty and sentenced at the fall term of court.

The funeral will be held at the house, 1803 Berlin street, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 17. Rev. William Hurd of the West Avenue Methodist Episcopal church officiating. Dwyer in charge and interment in Campbell cemetery.

FAIR MADE MONEY

$1,000 Better off Considering all Than on '05 Exposition

Receipts at the Interstate fair fell $269.02 short of the amount received at the 1905 exhibition. E. M. Wing, treasurer of the fair association, today completed and announced his report of the receipts for two years.
A difference of cash on hand has a considerable bearing on the totals. Ticket sales and receipts at the dining hall were smaller this year than last while increases were shown in the other departments. The tabulated report comparing the two years follows:

Cash, Jan. 1.....	$ 1,595.66	$ 100.44
Premium list.....	582.00	606.00
Donations.....	475.00	879.00
Privileges.....	1,400.04	2,254.94
Entrance money.....	2,608.20	3,401.00
Score cards.....	237.10	237.60
Ticket sales.....	9,522.88	8,456.80
Stall rent.....	22.00	34.00
Dining hall.....	517.89	371.54
State aid.....	3,021.41	3,633.80
Bills payable.....	500.00
Penalties.....	100.00	227.50
Other receipts.....		110.54
Totals.....	$20,582.18	$20,313.16

The difference in the cash on hand will show that the fair association had a prosperous week in 1906, although in some departments, the receipts were discouraging. The association had no bills payable at the beginning of the year while in 1905 there was $500 in this account.

Committee They Will be Here Late

Either William Jennings Bryan or Governor Folk of Missouri will deliver an address in La Crosse county during the campaign in behalf of the local democratic ticket. Attorney John F. Doherty, chairman of the democratic county committee, has received this assurance from H. H. Manson, chairman of the democratic state central committee.

The address will not be delivered until near the close of the campaign. Mr. Bryan will speak at Madison Wednesday, passing through La Crosse that night. He will make no long stop here, at least these are the present arrangements. His address, if one is delivered, will come as a closing to the campaign.

"We will have one or the other of Mr. Bryan and Governor Folk to speak in La Crosse county," said Chairman Doherty this morning. "I have received this assurance from Mr. Manson."

"The assignment of speakers is in his charge so I have little to say. The local branch of the party wants the speaker late in the campaign and this promise also has been given. Mr. Bryan will not stop here to give an address Wednesday while on his way from Madison to Sioux Falls but will come later."

"The local speakers will not take the stump until next week. Then the county will be canvassed thoroughly."

The state also secured from T. A. McLaughlin an admission that he was a director of the Buckeye at the same time he was a director in a supposed competitor of the Standard.

RECAPTURED YEGG-
MAN TO BE TRIEDFrank King Must Explain
Safe Blowing Propensities at Whitehall

Two years after his escape from the Trempealeau county jail at Whitehall where he was confined awaiting trial on a charge of burglary, Frank King, yeggman, captured with a gang at Medary by the La Crosse police in 1904, is to be brought to face justice this week. He will be tried on the old charge by Judge Fruit. Judge Fruit will leave for Whitehall tomorrow morning.

While his former companions are in Waupun, having finished about half their terms, King's fate will be in the hands of a jury. He was captured near Milwaukee, a few months ago and taken back to Whitehall to stand trial.

King, with James Sheldon, James Smooth, John Morgan, Fred Kingsley and William Murphy, was captured at Medary by the La Crosse police. The police descended upon the bunch with drawn riot guns and surrender was made quickly. Sheldon and Murphy were tried before Judge Fruit at La Crosse, and sentenced to five years each at Waupun on Oct. 19, 1904. Kingsley and Smooth received seven years each at Whitehall from Judge Fruit, after being convicted by a jury. King and Morgan escaped with Kingsley and Smooth, but the latter two were captured a short time later. Morgan is enjoying his liberty now for all the local police know for he never has been captured.

King will be charged with burglarizing the Pierson hardware store at Whitehall. Detectives Taylor, Webber and Lynnam with Patrolman Horshack will leave tomorrow morning to give evidence against King. They were instrumental in the capture of the gang and gave important testimony against the other members of the gang.

In the calendar of the Trempealeau term of court are six criminal cases, including the King case, six jury cases and seven court cases. Court Reporter Harrison will accompany Judge Fruit to Whitehall tomorrow.

VICISSITUDES OF MATRIMONYWedding, Divorce; Reconciliation

ALL IN COURT AT ONCE

Courts are Busy Tying and Untying Knot "But Death do Part"

One couple dissatisfied with a single existence, another unhappy while wedded and still a third disrupting divorce decree, aired their troubles in the county building this morning within the space of a few hours.

During that short time a divorce was granted, a marriage solemnized and arguments heard in a suit to modify the divorce decree. Each couple was in a position exactly opposite to the other and in which one was entangling himself while the other was seeking to rid himself of the meshes of single blissfulness, divorce or matrimony.

Frances Carhart and Thomas B. Carhart, Trempealeau county, were the first to appear. Mrs. Carhart had sued for divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. With the testimony of the plaintiff and friend, Mrs. Robinson given, a decree was granted. The case occupied only a few minutes.

With the divorce granted, Rose Newton and Marian Newton appeared. They are dissatisfied with their divorce decree. In 1897 the pair was divorced. Three days later Mrs. Newton was married again. She had received the custody of two children. Later she returned the children to Newton. Ten dollars per month was allowed the woman for the care of the children. Later this was increased to $18.

In 1900 Mrs. Newton wrote to her former husband asking that she be given the possession of the children during the Christmas vacation as she desired to entertain them. Securing possession she refused to give them up. During the time when the father cared for the children, he brought suit to have the divorce decree modified as he was caring for the homeless waifs. It was granted.

Mrs. Newton now seeks to recover for caring for the two children since 1900. The case is still on trial before Judge Fruit this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Frank Borschert, Glasgow, Trempealeau county, and Mary Rourke, Mindoro, La Crosse county, added the third link to the variegated of the human chain by wedding before Judge Brindley during the interim between the two cases before Judge Fruit. They were dissatisfied with remaining single and cast themselves in the place which the Carharts despised and the Newtons had extricated themselves.

FASHION PARAGRAPHS FROM NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Just at present the shops are particularly alluring. They teem with the season's novelties and every day fresh goods are displayed on the counters and in the show rooms to the great joy of lovely woman. All womanhood is intent upon the fall styles in millinery, costumes, gloves, veillings and the endless accessories that the woman in the front rank of fashion must own before she dare consider herself well dressed and well groomed. The actual wardrobe necessary to a well dressed woman nowadays contains a formidable number of things and most of them are very hard upon a short pocketbook.

With the tempting, bewildering array of new autumn finery before their eyes women are very likely to buy the pretty, frivolous things first and the necessary ones when they are forced to by the severity of the weather. Sometimes they have to go without the things that they really need because they have spent the greater part of their allowance upon extravagant hats, some perfect dream of waist or upon an exquisite necklace which cost all out of proportion to its value because it is a fair imitation of a real jeweled one.

Lace shows no decline in popularity in spite of the dire prophecies of failure made by certain depressing mortals. And the old rule of imitations affecting the popularity of the real has been proved false, as its way—never has anything been so imitated and travestied as Irish lace. Yet it holds its own, and promises this winter to be even more extravagantly used than it was last year.

Broadcloth heads the list of fabrics this fall as it did last winter for the dressier sorts of suits—those you wear to an afternoon reception and teas, and for anything else that calls itself a daytime affair. Plenty of the whole costumes, which Paris has decreed for this winter, are made of it; more of them though, or marquise— that wonderful stuff that is like a grenadine etherialized. Marquise, by the way, came last spring, but so late that it practically missed the season, and so starts off this fall like something brand new.

Veils are something important than ever before in the calculations of the fashionable women and the swathing, floating folds of chiffon, net, etc., are tremendously becoming if artistically adjusted. The lace veil bids fair to be a winter favorite and the Tosca bets with decorative borders are popular. White net dotted in black and embroidered in a vine trailing floral design above a hem of white chiffon is one of the new things.

Short coats, fitted or loose, and fanciful pelerine like wraps are favorite with Parisian furriers. Some of the models are braid trimmed, others adorned with lace and embroidery, but the practical fur coat is still at its best when of fine quality and untrimmed.

The Parisian fad for shawl like draperies has brought out some exquisite shawl scarfs in crepe. In soft silk and lace, the crepe and silk scarfs being elaborately embroidered.

Grapes are much in evidence upon the new hats; and the most luscious color effects are obtained in them, for they shade through many of the fashionable colorings and are practically effective in the browns, purple blues, grays and greens. Golden yellow, white and purple grapes are often combined, and flowers or plumes are frequently used with the fruit.

Soft silk sashes with embroidered scalloped edges are seen upon some of the sheer French gowns. They are either used as a short waisted girdle or are passed around the waist several either used as a short waisted girdle swathing in black, and tied there, the falling ends giving a short waisted Empire suggestion. The same arrangement is good for any silk or ribbon sash.

Very loose woven, soft Scotch tourist suitings, thick, yet light, and showing designs of irregular checks and plaids, are made especially for traveling coats, and are taking extremely well.

Sleeves are a little changed in line, but are a trifle smaller, and, on the whole a trifle longer than they were during the summer. They are frequently much draped and slashed and complicated in design.

Attractive pony coats of astrachan, plain or braided in black, are being shown at very moderate prices, and similar coats of the soft brown Russian pony skin are desirable in this season of browns.

R. B. GELATT IN THE Morning Chronicle.

Mr. Aylward, the democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin is a vigorous campaigner but not a fair one. He is positive in statement but careless in proof. He has not made a speech in the course of the present campaign which will stand the test of honest analysis. In dealing with the fiscal history of the state under republican administration he has thus far presented no more than a distorted statement of one side of the account. He has taken up the matter of expenditures under republican administration of the state government, but has said nothing of the increase of the public revenues pursuant to republican legislation. In taxes derived from the railroad corporations alone republican administration has put money enough into the state treasury to make Mr. Aylward's criticism of the expense account seem exceedingly small and unworthy.

There was one stickler of type in the Morning Laughing Stock Sunday morning that was not "lifted" from the Evening Common Stock of Saturday evening. It was the editorial regarding Candidate Aylward. In the first column above is what Mr. Gelatt thought in his democratic organ of Cargilldom Saturday night, and in the second column is what Mr. Gelatt thought in his Boss Conner organ of Cargilldom the next morning. With one hand he writes, " * * * no fair-minded person can quarrel with," the speech of Mr. Aylward; with the other hand he writes that "Mr. Aylward * * * is not a fair campaigner." What a spectacle of impudence rampant it is! What audacious effrontery possesses this man who has thus far practiced his arts of journalistic leg-germain upon the people of this city and "gotten away with it" What picturesque "moxy" to presume he can write pro in the morning and con at night, and be taken more seriously than a comic supplement! What must people who are sincere think of one whose insincerity does not even trouble to don the mask or sincerity? The esteemed contemporary can be judged in all things by his attitude regarding the candidacy of Mr. Aylward. He will change that attitude after reading this, for he learns much from The Tribune. Hereafter it will be all Boss Conner, and Aylward will be dropped. Mr. Gelatt is in wholesome fear of publicity given his transactions in a newspaper with a real circulation.

A PARTYLESS PARTISAN CANDIDATE

The savage attempt being made by the Cargilldom organs to whip publisher Gessler of the Bangor Independent and Publisher Trimble of the West Salem Nonpareil Journal into line for the conspicuously impossible Dog Palmer will not annoy these self respecting journalists. The Morning Laughing Stock has repeatedly paraphrased the suggestion that, "No man should stay on a republican campaign committee who is not in favor of the election of all the republican candidates." And where, pray, does The Dog get his warrant to assume the title of "republican?" His father and his uncle are life long democrats. He was elected as a republican in the aldermanic contest, but by his own assertion not by republican votes, a fact that induced him to treat lightly all suggestions of affiliation with them. What has he done for the republican party? Has he done party service? Has he been delegate, committeeman, party worker? Can anyone prove that he ever voted a strait republican ticket in his life? Must regular members of the party be abused for declining to support an unfit man whose eligibility to party favors cannot be shown by word or deed? Shall a man notoriously made a republican nominee by the votes of democratic admirers of his attainments demand of the republican organization that assistance due loyal workers of time-tried party allegiance on pain of expulsion from the party in which he is entitled to no voice or consideration?

Publisher Gessler adds this pertinent suggestion which, were the Morning Laughing Stock itself capable of honest partisanship, might explain its espousal of the cause of a candidate like Dog Palmer:

"The La Crosse Chronicle says it is a republican paper and it is for the republican ticket. The Chronicle may regard itself as a republican paper, but the party at large never regarded it enough of a republican paper to hurt. The Chronicle talks like a 'dope field.'"

Lest someone overlook it, we take the liberty to explain Mr. Gessler's subtle irony. Look at the "medicine sloop" advertisements in The Chronicle, and you will see where the "dope fiend" comes in.

However, we do not believe that partisanship had anything to do with the Slipski-Gelatt support of Palmer. We believe they supported The Dog instinctively.

ONLY 345,600 BOTTLES

The Chronicle says it carried $12,000 worth of patent medicine advertising last year. That means that at least $12,000 worth of patent medicines was bought here for obviously no medicine manufacturer will spend more on advertising than the gross receipts for his medicine. Having received its pay in patent medicine The Chronicle must have come into possession of $12,000 worth of patent medicine in twelve months. Figured at an average of $50 per gross, it "acquired" 2,400 gross, or 345,600 bottles of patent medicine, all of which was supposed by the factories to have been sold through a single local drug store. As there are 365 days in a year, this drug house must have sold at retail an average of 946 bottles of patent medicine per day for 365 consecutive days in a city of 30,000 people. During the year it must have sold to each man, woman and child in the city twelve bottles of patent medicine, or to each head of a household fifty-seven bottles of patent medicine. Do you doubt that this medicine was jobbed at cut rates, and that the actual advertising rate per inch secured was 4 cents instead of 14 cents? Do local merchants relish paying from two to four times as much for space as is received for stuff that kills what little value their advertising would have had?

NOTHING CAN BE SAID AGAINST BURNS

"Nothing can be truthfully said against Chris J. Burns. The worst we have heard said against him is that he is a democrat. And that isn't a crime in La Crosse county at the present time, however it may have been regarded in the past.

"There is no party principle involved as between him and Mr. Palmer, and republicans as well as democrats, populists, prohibitionists, socialists, etc., can vote for Mr. Burns for sheriff with equal propriety."—Bangor Independent.

We believe that Candidate Aylward is making a mistake in campaigning upon the alleged extravagance of the La Follette administration. Things have been done in this state, and it costs money to do things. Beside, the increased expense has been offset by financial returns from the things that were done. The railroads alone have nearly paid the bill in increased taxes, back taxes, etc. In the fear of the public lest the control of Boss Conner and his corporation gang fasten itself on the state lies the chance of Aylward. There can be no mistake. With the whole stalwart crowd, including Fatfrier Babcock, called in consultation by Boss Connor, it becomes a grim reality that corporation control is about to be restored in this state. The La Follette era is at an end for the present unless the reins are seized by the democrats.

Anyway the Third warders upheld the honor of La Crosse. And the W. B. U. have to lose one petty game a year, habitually. Saturday did not furnish accurate dope for the betting ring.

With an average daily attendance of 20,000, Manager Jones of the world champion Chicago Americans must have a neat roll in his Sox.

Evidently Secretary Taft failed to sit on the Cuban rebels. Had he done so the rebellion would have flat tened out.

JUST LIFE

It's not surprising that Uncle Joe Cannon should want protection, having accumulated more than a million dollars without working.

Fairbanks sees disaster in a democratic government. The democrats wouldn't freeze to the background, anyway.

Anyway, the Sox couldn't do it over again.

The self-conscious man is as unfortunate as the man unconscious of others.

The services at the theater last evening drew a large congregation and "Our New Minister's" sermon was much enjoyed. And we have had many of our readers thank us for giving them that "hunch."

No doubt the Bangor Independent believes the Morning paper drank most of that $12,000 worth of patent medicine last year. Not a very good demonstration for the medicine, either.

A "bold front" is all right, but corpulency is something else.

One advantage about this fall weather, one won't break his fly outfit.

Our Remuneration

Some days ago we took occasion to say a word for "Our New Minister," in the way of commendation. We swore upon that occasion that we would take no pay for the article. But we have been paid, repaid and doubly paid. We were repaid in an opportunity afforded to meet Constable Startle, who is Ed Conyers behind the scenes and elsewhere. When we were ushered into the sanctity of the dressing room we feared we were "pinched" when the constable shook our hand until our diamond ring ground into the bone of each nearest finger. However, we made no outcry and dropping upon a trunkful of make-up wondered how on earth such an array of Indian war-dance designs upon the face of the constable made him appear so funny upon the stage.

It was some satisfaction to learn from Mr. Conyers that some of the other leading dramatic critics in the large cities had also suggested the piece be called "The Constable," and that these critics' ideas coincided with those expressed by ourselves—though of course this was to be expected. Mr. Conyers informed us that even he had suggested to the authors of the piece that it be called "The Country Constable," but that they had declined to abandon the old name. We learned, in verification of our good judgment of the quality of the play, that the company had played to four packed houses at Fond du Lac this season and that more often than otherwise the seats are sold before the doors open, where the show is known.

Upon taking our leave the constable again pressed our ring into the aching flesh of our adjoining fingers, and, stumbling over a scene prop in our confusion, we returned to the audience with the press agent.

Everybody in China works hard, even those who have reached the highest positions. It is related of a member of the Chinese cabinet that he left home every morning at 2 o'clock, as he was on duty at the palace from 2 to 6. As a member of the privy council he was engaged from 6 to 9. From 9 until 11 he was at the war department, of which he was president. As the member of the board of punishment he was in attendance from 12 to 2 and as minister of the foreign office he spent every day from 2 till 5 there. NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS.

Archbishop Quigley.

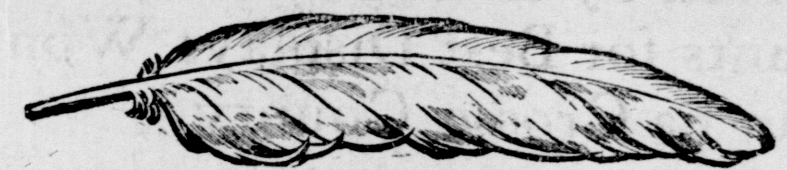

The Most Reverend James Edward Quigley, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Chicago, was born at Oshawa, Canada, Oct. 15, 1854. At an early age he moved with his parents to Lima, N. Y., and graduated from St. Joseph College in Buffalo. The prelate's rise to his present eminent position furnishes an object lesson of what determined mother love can do. At one time Mrs. Quigley's son was anxious to enter the West Point military academy, having a strong leaning toward a military life. The mother, however, having in view the church, dissuaded him and declined the appointment which had practically been offered. The young man continued his studies at Niagara University and subsequently at the university of Innsbruck, in the Austrian Tyrol. In 1877 he graduated from the College of the Propaganda, at Rome. Returning to America, he became pastor of a church at Attica, N. Y., where he remained until 1884, when he was removed to St. Joseph's Cathedral, Buffalo. He was bishop of the Buffalo diocese from 1896 to 1903, in which latter year he was installed as Archbishop of Chicago.

DENIES CONNECTION WITH STANDARD OIL CO.

In the following letter to The Tribune the Dubuque Oil Tank Line company recently changed to the National Refining company, vigorously denies that it is in any way connected with the Standard Oil company.

The letter follows:
The Tribune,

La Crosse Wis.
Gentlemen:

There has been one or two articles published in the local papers in regard to The Dubuque Oil Tank Line changing its name to the National Refining Company and some comments have been made as to whether or not this was an affiliation of the Standard Oil Company. You do us a great injustice when you connect up our name with the Standard Oil Company.

The Dubuque Oil Tank Line have represented the brands of the National Refining Company ever since its organization and in order to clearly set forth to the public whose oil they are handling it was decided to change its name to that of the company who refined the goods, the National Refining Company. We are absolutely independent; not only the Cleveland house but the Dubuque, Clinton and La Crosse houses and we will wager $5,000.00 to $5.00, and we will give the money to any charitable institution, that we are in no manner, shape or form connected with the Standard Oil Company.

We trust that in view of these statements that you will correct the report in your paper that we are affiliated with the Standard Oil Company. Very truly yours,

THE NATIONAL REFINING COMPANY,
Per Frank B. Fretter,
Secretary.

REV. SALOME IS A DISTINGUISHED CHURCHMAN

Greek Priest Who is to Take Charge of New Church Here is High in Church Circles

The Rt. Rev. Philip Salmone, D. D., Ph. D., Grand Vicar of the archbishopric of Baalback, Syria, Missionary apostolic-at-large to the Greek and Syrian Catholics of the United States, ex-president of the Syrian Catholics of the United States, ex-president of the Syrian college at Zahlet in Mount Lebanon, founder of the Baalback Orphanage, is one of the highest and best known church officials in the orient.

It is he who is to take charge of the new Greek Catholic church to be built on the North side.

Monsignor Salmone is a native of the city of Alexandria, the great Alexandria of Egypt. His early education was obtained in the college of St. Anne, Jerusalem, under the tutelage of the White Fathers. His high accomplishments, however, are the result of an assiduous study of fourteen years at the University of St. Joseph Byruat, and the Grand Seminary of St. Sulpice, Paris, France. In these institutions he secured the highest honors and degrees and at the conclusion of his studies he was immediately given charge of the college at Zahlet, Mt. Lebanon, which prospered greatly under his careful administration. During the four years of his administration the number of teachers increased from eight to seventeen. At the end of the fourth year's regime he was invited by the Archbishop to be his helper and special adviser. He was the first Grand Vicar of the ancient archbishopric of Baalback. The duties that devolved upon him were heavy. He founded an orphanage, which in view of the tyrannical form of government in that country, has developed into a great institution.

While at Baalback Monsignor Salmone was one of the principal members of the committee that entertained Emperor William II of Germany, on his recent visit to the Holy Land. Emperor William extended to him an invitation to visit Germany, which invitation he accepted and, with the late patriarch of the orient, Peter IV, they visited all the capitals of Europe, and were received in audience by the Sultan of Turkey, President Loubet of France and Pope Leo XIII, and Emperor William of Germany.

About a year ago Monsignor Salmone came to America, an ambition that he had long cherished. Three months of his sojourn in the western continent have been spent in Old Mexico. He is a great admirer of the United States and has traveled from coast to coast, having visited all the cities of importance and many small places in his itinerary. When the fact is considered that only about nine months of his time has been passed in active duty in this country, the facility and correctness with which he speaks and handles the English language is marvelous. Besides English, he speaks fluently the French, Greek, Latin and Arabic languages.

Monsignor Salmone sang high mass at Stanley Aug. 5, in St. Mary's church at ten thirty o'clock. In this service he used the old Greek language, the Maronite liturgy and the oriental sacerdotal vestments. The children's choir of St. Mary's sang the choral parts of the mass in the Latin language. A full church witnessed the strange, but beautiful, ceremony and listened with pleasure to the address of the distinguished churchman in the English language. His diction is easy and simple and his pronunciation is good.

The subject of the morning address was centered chiefly on the difference between the Latin and the Greek liturgy. He stated that "while in the Catholic church the sacred mysteries are celebrated in many languages and according to many rites—Latin, Greek, Syrian, Coptic, Chaldean, Armenian, Ethiopic Slavonic, and Wallichian—her dogmas of faith and morals are always and everywhere the same and unchangeable, and while we serve God here on earth in different tongues and according to different ceremonies, in heaven there will be for us all, but one language and one liturgy—the language of love and the liturgy of faithful adoration, praise and benediction."

For some length he spoke of the severity of the discipline of the Christian religion in the Orient. The fasts and penances are numerous and stern. During the fifty days of Lent not five pounds of meat he said, could be found in the market place for sale, so severe is the law of abstinence. The Mohammedan religion was briefly outlined. The followers of Mohammed are very strict in the observances of their religious rites and ceremonies but the ignorance and superstition to which their religion induces them is almost incredible. The Mohammedan is taught by his religion that he gives to God the highest possible service, that he practices the greatest virtue when he spills the blood of a Christian. He firmly believes that if he dies in the act, or after the act of shedding Christian blood, his soul will go direct to the bosom of his Maker.

The tyranny of the Mussulman government and the difficulty of securing an education in that country were touched lightly. The people, in general, are very ignorant because the government gives no encouragement to the work of education. The Grand Sultan of Turkey is an absolute Monarch and the head of the Mohammedan religion. The Mohammedan people look upon the Grand Sultan as a deity. He is worshipped by his subjects the same as Christian people worship Jesus Christ. The religion of the Grand Sultan obliges him to maintain in the royal palace eight hundred wives. After the consummation of their marriage with the Sultan they are looked upon sanctified. The choicest gift the Sultan can offer one of his most faithful statesmen is one of his sanctified wives, which offering is sometimes made.

At the evening service in St. Mary's church the Rt. Rev. Monsignor again addressed the congregation, principally on the religious phase of the Orient. He has visited and studied nearly every part of the civilized world. Archbishop Ireland, he said, once asked him to express his opinion of the various countries visited and studied. "I said to him," said Monsignor, "Archbishop, America is a business country, all business; Europe is a pleasure country, all pleasure; the Orient is a religious country, all religion."

"America is the business country, because everybody, old and young, rich and poor is after the dollar; not much time for pleasure and no time for religion. Your American women fill every position of labor, business and profession, except two—railroad and street car conductors, engineers, motormen and brakemen. All other positions are filled by women. "Europe is a pleasure country, because people there take the world free and easy. A little business is transacted between nine o'clock in the morning and six o'clock in the evening, that's all. It is a continuous round of pleasure with everybody from six to midnight and later, and then sleep until eight or nine in the morning. You see, then, Europe is a pleasure country. People in Europe prefer the theater, the pleasure garden, the social gatherings to the church for pleasure."

"The Orient is a religion country because the people prefer the home and the church to business or pleasure. Little satisfies them in business and less in the line of pleasure. There are no theaters or dance halls in the Orient. The young women of those countries are not permitted on the public streets unless accompanied by their brothers or parents. So careful are parents of the morals of their girls that they never permit them to entertain gentlemen companions privately. For a girl to walk the streets after nightfall is unheard of in that country. Woman's place in the Orient is in the home, to make home all it should be—happy."

These customs have been handed down from time immemorial. They are inherited by the children from the parents. Example teaches more powerfully than words. Live in the Orient thirty years and you will not see a drunken man on a public street. The people attend church daily.

The cathedral church of Baalbeck is very large. Masses are celebrated in that church six times each morning. The church is filled with people at each service. People go to church first and to their places of business afterwards.

The Monsignor's narration of his private audiences with many of the crowned heads of Europe, the Grand Sultan of Turkey at Constantinople, the Emperor of Germany at Cologne, the president of France, Loubet, at Paris, Pope Leo XIII at Rome, and President Roosevelt at Washington, was highly interesting and entertaining.

The Monsignor is a close friend of Cardinal Rampolo, Secretary of State of Pope Leo XIII. He was ordained to the priesthood at the age of twenty, by a special dispensation from the late Pope Leo. He is at the present time under twenty-seven years of age.

His mission in this country is to visit and encourage in the practice of their faith all his countrymen, Syrians and Greeks, organize parishes and build churches in all the large cities in every state of the union, where his people are to be found, and secure resident priests from them as far as possible. This year he will start to college two American born boys of his race to study for the priesthood, as he is a firm believer in a native priesthood doing the most satisfactory work. The Monsignor is a great lover of America and everything good in America. He is so much in love with us that he has taken out his first naturalization papers. Speaking Sunday evening of the pleasure it gives him to hold as souvenirs of his audiences with the most distinguished rulers of the world, he said: "I now take great pleasure in placing on my list of souvenirs, La Crosse as one of the most pleasant places in my itinerary."

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and Colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Mrs. Geo. TRIBUNE CONTEST WIDELY DISCUSSED

Twenty-one Ladies to Receive Magnificent Rewards

Any Young Lady in the Six Districts is Eligible to Compete in This Great Contest for One of the Prizes

The Tribune contest is the subject of discussion in hundreds of homes in La Crosse and surrounding country.

The good-natured tug-of-war has opened strongly, and the list of candidates and aspirants is growing hourly. The voting has started in earnest and by Saturday, Oct. 20, at which time the candidates will be announced for the first time and the number of votes each contestant has, the contest will have a strong foundation of interest.

It seems that there is still some misunderstanding as to when the votes will be counted. The first count will be made Saturday, Oct. 20, after which time the ballots will be counted every afternoon at 6 o'clock, so as to appear in the evening edition of the Tribune the next day. Votes received after that hour will not appear until the following day.

The best way to poll up a large number of votes is by securing a number of subscriptions to the Tribune. A little work now will be worth ten times the amount later on. Get in the contest with a vim and the piano trips and scholarships are worth vastly more than the effort.

There is a ballot box in the Tribune office where the votes may be deposited for any young ladies whom you may see fit to vote for. If you cannot bring the ballots to the office, send them in by mail to the Contest Manager, and the votes will be accorded to the young lady for whom they are intended. The votes are counted twice, so there can be no mistake as to the proper number of ballots accorded to each candidate. The votes are always open for inspection to insure a fair deal.

HOW TO WIN

Any young lady who desires to enter this great contest and win one of the magnificent prizes offered, should at once see that her name is sent to the contest manager. All that is necessary to win a prize is to receive the largest number of votes according to the conditions mentioned elsewhere in this announcement.

Candidates should at once interest their friends in the contest and by united and energetic action induce as many people as possible to vote for them. Each nomination coupon cut from The Tribune will count for five votes for a candidate.

The nomination coupon will only appear for a few days. The easiest and quickest way to win is for candidates to ask their friends to prepay their subscription from six to twelve months. It costs the subscriber nothing extra to do this and they are saved the annoyance of weekly and monthly collections.

By so doing you receive a special vote ballot which is good any time during the contest.

Orders for the prizes will be given the successful contestants at the close of the contest; same may be used by contestant herself or disposed of in any manner she may see fit.

Any young lady residing in the above mentioned territory is eligible to compete in this contest.

Any one who desires to vote in this contest may do so by ballots cut from The Daily Tribune, or by special vote coupons obtained by subscribing to The Tribune. The coupons secured by subscribing to The Tribune may be held as long as desired and voted at any time up to the close of the contest, but ballots cut from The Tribune are only good for one week from publication and will not be counted if voted after the date printed on the ballot.

Persons living in one district are not confined to voting for ladies in their own particular district, but may vote for anybody in the race.

This offer affords the girls of La Crosse and outside districts an excellent opportunity to travel and receive a business education at the expense of The Tribune.

The trips include transportation both ways, meals and berth while enroute, first class hotel accommodations at different resorts.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR VOTING

Enter the name of the lady whom you wish to secure one of these magnificent rewards in this contest at once. She may win a piano, a free trip, or one of the valuable scholarships. Better still, get the lady to enter her name and then vote for her. Those who get in on the start have the best chance of winning, so it is desirable that the names be entered at once in order to get a good start. Candidates who enter this contest do not necessarily have to be subscribers of The Tribune. Enter your name and your friends will do the rest. You will be surprised to see how rapidly the votes will come in, and what little effort is necessary to win one of the rewards offered. Get in on the start and encourage your friends to vote for you; the rest will be easy. You will never know how popular you are until you enter a contest of this kind.

The first announcement as to who the ladies are who are competing in this competition will be made Saturday, Oct. 15, and the number of votes each one has to her credit.

After the first announcement of candidates and the counting of the ballots the vote will be counted each afternoon at six o'clock, and the result printed in the following issue of the Tribune. There will be a short write up in the paper each day from now on until the close of the contest and those interested can keep in close touch with the contest and competing candidates. Certain it is that twenty-one ladies of La Crosse and surrounding country are to receive magnificent rewards, and it is left to the readers of the Tribune to decide.

INDIGESTION A CRIME.

Don't You Want a Keen Appetite and Perfect Health Once More.

Don't you want a keen appetite, vigorous digestion, strong heart action, pure blood, nerves of steel, and natural strength and health restored to you once more?

If you continue to suffer with the ills of indigestion, such as headaches, backaches, sleeplessness, nausea and distress after eating, specks before the eyes, despondency and nervousness, now that you have been told of the good Mi-o-na stomach tablets will do you, then your indigestion is an absolute crime.

Mi-o-na will strengthen all the organs of digestion, so that you will get from your food the nourishment that is needed to support the vital forces and strengthen the nerve powers; the flagging spirits of mind and body will be rejuvenated; hope, courage and strength will be restored.

The fact that Mi-o-na is sold under an absolute guarantee by O. T. Erhart to strengthen the digestive system and restore health, or he will refund the money, proves most clearly and strongly the great merit of this remedy.

Ask him to show you the guarantee he gives with every 50-cent box of Mi-o-na. This will show his faith in the remedy, and Mi-o-na itself will soon demonstrate its health-giving qualities.

NEWS AND NOTES OF SPORT

It is said Jimmy Britt has great hopes of inducing Battling Nelson to sign up for a fight in San Francisco in December. He thinks that a third contest between the Dane and himself would be a bigger drawing card than another Gans-Nelson match—but he is the only man that thinks so.

Nutboy, the Boston trotter, won seven races out of eight starts on the Grand circuit this year and cleaned up $14,772 in purses.

Ed Geers heads the list of money earning drivers this season, having $27,785 to his credit.

This season was the fifth for a Chicago team of the National baseball league to go over 700 per cent in a pennant race.

George Tebeau will have to sign up new managers for both his Kansas City and Denver ball teams next season.

From a financial standpoint the season was the best in the history of the Canadian Lacrosse league. The figures for the season show receipts amounting to $77,500.

Dick Hyland, who defeated Eddie Hanlon, has been placed on the list of desirable attractions by all the fight promoters.

Some of the closest followers of pugilism do not hesitate to express the opinion that Jack Johnson, the giant black, is the most likely heavyweight in the country today, with the single exception of Jeffries.

The Washington and Jefferson eleven is surprising the football critics by playing a magnificent game against Princeton and holding the Tigers to the low score of 6 to 0.

The circuit of horse shows in the middle west begins this week with the annual exhibition at Kansas City.

The five best trotters on the Grand Circuit this season are Nutboy, Main-sheet, Brilliant Girl, Sweet Marie and Goldust Maid. Nutboy is the star of the lot.

Jack O'Brien is still talking, making and breaking pugilistic matches and working the press end of the game to the limit.

Phil Nill, a member of the Cornell football team in 1900, is helping the coaches at Ithaca.

In Ann Arbor they say that Garrels, one of Michigan's ends, is one of the greatest punters the game has ever seen.

Hell David Skillman, the prognosticator of sports at Princeton, has not yet been tipped the score of the coming Yale-Princeton game.

The Carlisle Indians have run up enormous scores in the football games played so far this season.

The work of the Lehigh eleven has not been satisfactory to Coach Dockson, and to make matters worse, several of the best players are crippled. Berger, the left halfback, has been doing star work on the Yale scrub team. He will probably get the opportunity to line up with the varsity before long.

The Highlanders did not win the pennant, but they took three out of four games in the last series with the White Sox.

A baseball scribe recently said: "That race in the American league is pretty enough to make it look as if it had been fixed."

If it had been fixed brother, you can slip the rubber band and bet your limit that it would have been fixed for the Highlanders. The moguls of both leagues know that having two champion teams in one city will not do the game any good, finally at any rate.

Casey, Jordan and Alperman of the Brooklyn ball team made four hits each in the opening game of the last series with Boston.

WORLD'S RICHEST GIRL WEDS

(Tribune Special Service.)

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—The wedding of Miss Bertha Krupp, eldest daughter of the late Herr Krupp, the great gunmaker and wealthiest man in Germany, and Gustavus von Bohnen-Halback, a young member of the German diplomatic service, took place today at the Krupp villa at Hugel, a few miles from Essen. The presence of representatives of the imperial family and of numerous other guests of note gave brilliancy to the function, which otherwise was characterized by the greatest simplicity, and this, notwithstanding the fact that the bride is the richest young woman in the world. The wedding took place in a chapel which had been erected in the villa grounds especially for the occasion. The bride's only attendant was her young sister, Miss Barbara Krupp, who herself is to be married a few months hence.

The great Krupp works in Essen were closed and the thousands of workmen given a holiday in honor of the wedding. The city council of Essen proclaimed a holiday, and the houses and business places were decorated. A deputation of the Krupp employees attended the wedding by special invitation and the First Burgomaster headed a municipal delegation representing the city of Essen.

The bride of today is undoubtedly the richest heiress in the world. By the will of her father who died Nov. 22, 1902, the works at Essen, Kiel, Magdeburg, Oberhausen and elsewhere the total value of which exceeds $50,000,000, were converted into a limited liability company with $3,200,000 capital. The eldest daughter holds 159,996 shares in the company, and her mother and younger sister, Barbara, are otherwise provided for. The last dividend was $2,400,000, nearly all of which was paid to Bertha as the largest shareholder.

The bridegroom, Herr Gustavus von Bohnen-Halback, is 36 years old and was born at The Hague, where his father was minister of the grand duchy of Baden. The family has extensive estates in Baden and also large interests in the United States. After studying law at Heidelberg University he traveled extensively in America. Returning to Europe in 1897, he was appointed to a post in the foreign office at Berlin. The young diplomat went again to America in 1899, this time as secretary of the German embassy at Washington. His abilities were soon recognized, and in 1900 he accompanied Count Mumm von Schwarzenstein to Peking as secretary of the legation, and was secretary to the international conference to arrange terms of peace with China. His next appointment was that of first secretary to the Prussian legation to the Holy Sea, which he filled since 1903.

THREE BALLOONS IN THE SAME YARD

In connection with the Continental clothing house's "balloon ascension" a strange thing occurred. Three of the several balloons sent up from the store landed in the front yard of George Roelling, Midway, Wis., it being likely that the balloons, falling into the same current of air were all carried to the same destination.

Those who found the balloons and returned the coupons claiming the prize awards were:

George Roelling, Midway, three balloons.

WIFE OF EX-GOVER- NOR PECK IS DEAD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 15.—Mrs. George W. Peck died yesterday at the hospital in Winnetka, Ill., where she had been treated for the last month. The funeral will be held in Milwaukee, arrangements for which have not as yet been completed.

Mrs. Peck had been ill for some time but showed signs of recovery about two weeks ago, leading her relatives and friends to believe that her illness was of temporary duration only. Her death was unexpected under the circumstances. The body will be brought to Milwaukee for burial.

UNIQUE'S NEWSHOW

The watch given away at the Unique theater last Friday evening, was won by Albert Haler, corner of Third and Cameron avenue, his mother having secured the coupon at the afternoon performance.

The Unique offers a fine show this week. The Stephen Fitzpatrick company presents "A Husband, on Salary," a very fine play in one act. The Fitzpatrick company has played this in all the large cities at $1 prices.

"The Coming Man," by Lahl and Cecil is a very funny act and keeps the audience in an uproar. In motion pictures "Christopher Columbus," in seventeen scenes, is one of the greatest pictures ever seen on canvas. The other picture is "Electric Current," a great, long laugh. Miss Ethel Lynnam will appear as an amateur in this play. The management of this theater proposes to give away a watch every Friday evening after the last show to the person holding the lucky number. Secure your coupons at the box office, with every 10 cent ticket.
